ALCOHOLISM IN EGYPT.

Among the innumerable services rendered by Lord Cromer to the Egyptian people, no the least is that of having warned them agains the evils of intemperance. Now that he ha inaugurated the campaign it is to be hopethe eras a command to the company of the bound in anguirated the campaign it is to be hoped that his efforts will be promptly and congriculary seconded by his subordinates. Statistics are not readily accossible. Some, no doubt-may be found easthered amongst the Clastoms returns, the reports of the Procureor Feneral, and the director of the Lenation Arylium at Abbasieh. But these require collecting and arranging in a comprehensive and tabulated form, so that the public may see at a glance the facts and figures upon which Lord Chomes's recent remarks were based. If the various ministries and departments were to publish in the manner angusted the particular connected with the experiments. remarks were based. If the various ministries and departments were to publish in the manner suggested the particulars connected with the traffici in drink, exhibiting its increase and its disactrons effects upon the population of Egypt during, say, the last five years, a powerful weapon would be pisaced in the hands of temperance reformers which is at present almost entirely lacking. It may possibly be tound that the law is defective, or that its administration is inefficient. As yet, however, one has no means of judging if such be the case. Doubless, in the course of this discussion, we shall be frequently reminded that place of the discussion of the properties of the discussion.

"you cannot make men sober by Act of Par-isamest." This, in England at all events, is the stock argument of the opponents of temperance legislation. To a certain but we were provided to the properties of temperance legislation. To a cortain but we were limited extent thisy have right, on their side. There are unquestiously some habitual votaries of the Demon Drink who are in our country, constitute only asmail immerity. What appropriate and "well devised legislation can effect is to remove, in a measure, the temperation to fall into drinking nature, and their render most valuable seasistance to those who redeavour by precept and example con-courses. One efficient cause which imakes for courses. One efficient cause which imakes for articleourses, crime, and insainty as the imperity of the algobouch leguer supplied by the were class of cabaret. If in Expty there be a law against adulteration its provisions are, to our certain knowledge, enforced with depo-rable layers. Here action statistics of causea law against adulteration its provisions are, to our certain knowledge, enfonced with deplo-rable laxity. Here again statistics of course-tions, should any such exist, would be ser-viceable.

THE P.W.D. AND THE LOURISTS.

THE P.W.D. AND THE AURISTS.

A curious example of arbitrariness on the this week, 'wene, writner any preliminary notice, some of the Ministry of Punis Works occurred this week, 'wene, writner any preliminary notice, some of the innest interesting signate in the neighbourhood of Luxary were under. #### THE ROYAL VISIT.

RETURN TO CAIRO.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT).
LAZOT, Wednesday.
The Duke and Duchess of Commanght visited centereday the Tombs of the Queens and the liferent amountments of Thebes. They were auch interested in the new tomb found by Mr. Davis and they were the first tourists to nter it.

Two days ago Mr. Davis, the American exvator, discovered this new tomb among the ombs of the Queens. Two mummies wand in it which have been examined by rofessor Masjero. Some valuable objects have so been found in the tomb.

ano teen found in the tomb.

The Duke and Duchess of Connaught arrived at Cairo at 9.10 o'clock this morning, accompanied by Sir John Maxwell, K. C. B., Staff Officer to the Impector General of the Forces, and the other members of the suite. Their Royal Higmenses were met at the station by Mr. Mansfield de C. Finday, C.M. G., representing the Britsan Agency, Dr. Rouxes-Lenisch, Gorman Diplomatic Agent, Major-veneral Slade, U.B., and neveral of the principal officers of the staffs of the British and E.yptian Army, as wall as several well-known members of the Khedirva's bonachold, menui-ing Brew ser Boy, his Highmass's English Secretary, and also by the president of the Khaiway Board.

The Khedive came to Ableen Palace this asyming in order to receive the Duke and Duchess of Connaught on their return from the Sudan.

After the departure of their Royal High-nesses from Cairo, the Rhedive will leave the Capital for Mariout, whence be will go on a fortnight's excursion in the Libyan-desert.

THE MAHMAL THEFT.

A correspondent writes in reference to the Mahmul th-ft: —Why was this hushed up so quickly! Had any big-wigs a finger in the pie! The amount was certainly worth bagging. The subsequent hilence is ominous. Had such a thing happened in Bagdand—say, the theft of £9,000 from a bank or elsewhere—we should have had daily balletins of the provess of the police and the clase that had been discovered. But here, in this not "goas you-please" but "robas-you-please" country, the Government to whose negligence the theft was due drops the topic like a live coal!

In an article on the Ethiopian Railway, the "Journal dae Debats" says:
"Now that the Sudan question has been settled by the Convention of the 4th of April, 1904, there no longer exists any reason why threat Britain and Prance should play off Abyssinia one against the other. These countries abould, on the contrary, come to an arrangement with Italy to guarantee the independence of Abyssinia, and should co-operate in protecting their legitimate mutual interests there.

in protecting their legitimate mutual interests there.

"British diplomacy cannot but endeavour to prevail upon the Negus to allow the French-railway, the concession for which was granted in 1894, to be continued to Addis Abba, while we, on our part, must make representations in favor of the railway concessions which the British may ask for in Western Alyssinia, with a view to betaining outlets for the Egyptian Sudan.
"Instructions in this sense should be sent to the two Legations at Addis Abba, and if it is considered that them accontinued to a policy mo longer corresponding with the present relations terrous Grant British and Prench representatives might be replaced."

Under the above heading, "The Westminster Gasatte" of Feb. 10 published the following letter:

Str.,—It is really ludierous to read of the ureat scheme of decentralisation, when here in Egypt we have recently seen the General Officer received for moving three companies from Alexandria to the more healthy barracks and esteter ranges at Abbasis, and the country put to the expense of returning said companies—by order from home. Regiments moved from the command without any reference to the General Officer Commanding as to the advirability of denuding the country, merely because the Government with to show a paltry swing on the fatimates!

Not three years ago the Cabinet, through Mr. Brodrick, suggested keeping 30,000 troops in South Africe as a reinforcement for India. If India were in trouble the Cape could hardly be let to tisteff.

Yet here in Egypt we have an ideal training-ranges without himst, a climate to accust mother than the control of the second of the country of the control of the control of the country of the control of the country in the country in office may see to this without delay,—thous the country in office and get no beaufightened from, is dropped to better. #### THE BANK OF EGYPT.

THE BANK OF EGYPT.

The wonderful prosperity which is being asperienced by the benking industry in Egypt citic continues (asys the "financial Times") to be one of the most remarkable features of the day, and each accessive amounteement of the several institutions working in that country serves to emphasise the fact. The shares of the Bank of Egypt have recently appreciated to a considerable extent, and it is, therefore, not allogether surprising to find that the directors of that institution announce a dividend and boints of 16 per cent. for 1904 as against 14 per cent. for the previous year, This distribution, of course, only applies to the old shares, the new capital recently issued receiving a quarter of the dividend and bonus, the distribution, of course, only applies to the old shares, the new capital recently issued receiving a quarter of the dividend and bonus, less the interim dividend paid on the other shares. A year ago 215,000 was transferred to the reserve, whereas no less that £170,000 is now placed to that fund, the amount being swellen by the premiums received on me shares. This raises the reserve to £400,000. The carry-forward will then be £12,548—nearly double that of a year ago.

THE NILE.

THE RIVER'S NAVIGATION.

highly interesting paper on the naviga in of the Nile was read at the 8th ordinary cetting of the Society of Arta on thei-1st, the Sir William II. Precee, K.C.B., P.R.S. extract the following passage:—

[a purpose, however, to refer to the portion the river from Associan to Cairo, apart regether from the protection from floods, which are well in hand. Here the hindrances pavigation are the want of water at low like the strong currents at full Nile, the osing of bridges, the incessant changes of the named, the formation of shoals and banks, we constant-deposition of matter in the wrong sice, and the skiting up of the river. With a sirable fluid of water, an increasing width of and the sating up of the river. With a major the real property of the real to ance of the sales beyond the control persistent north wind. This was of man—the persistent not a "man appreciated so, much by the ancient Egyptians that it was desified and symbolised by them as a besidence to your The river as the main actory of the life and commerce of the country. All important towns and y villages cluster on its banks. It is one brilliant scene of white-winged dalabeiths, glainess, markebs, and finkes, laden with human beings, agricultural produces, and naunfactured goods. The stately steamer prices with its complement of sightly-steamer prices with its complement of sightly steamer prices with its complement and segment steamer and express boat maintain a regular strice of post-of and commercial communication. The nomber of boats of all classes plying exceeds 22,000. much by the ancient Egyptian tion. The number of boats of air classes pyring exceeds 22,000.

I have seen no evidence whatever of any engineeting operations in hand, either to maintain time depth or to train the currents so as to keep the channels in their proper course. Have not even seen a dredger at work, but my line of inspection has been confined to Upper Exppt. On the other hand, the destruction of the banks by the shadouts is only too apparent.

There are no charts of the river, nor is there stematic survey in hand. I doubt if any river in the world is so badly treated, owners of 22,000 boats would surely t to a small taxation of £1 per boat per deposit of the sit and by the dredging of the free or neclaimed banks and places.

Sir William Prece's conclusion has follows. The chief point for careful consideration appears to me to be not only the control of the start, but the centrel of the sit. Thirty-thousand toes of valuable mud are lost in the energy para, and the rise of the bed of the river in the Delta is a very serjous question. Navigation is thus cheecked, but the reneity in at hand. The outlets are to be cleared by dredging. More sedimant will be titllized on the land. Gurent will be regulated by storage and barrage. Floods will be under better man agencent. But what is most regulating of the river, its maintenance in well defined units, a depth navigable in all seasons, and a call on Nature to asists tima to regulate this processor water, communication for his daily service.

ALFXANDRIA SPORTING CLUB

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING.

The annual general meeting of the A. S. C. was bald at the Khedivial Club on Wednesday vasuing. The attendance was only small, but him was very likely due to the holidays. The time was very likely due to the holidays. The time, secretary read his reports a follows: directlemen.—I have the honor to lay before you the profit and loss account and balance shoet of the club for the year 1904, which I think will be considered by you as anisfactory from every point of view. For the purposes of comparison, the account before you contains also in red the figures for 1903 and I would like to offer few remarks as to the differences which appear on comparing the two years. At first blush it would seem that a decrease in the put profit of nearly £600 was unsatisfactory, but it is easily accounted for. If you look at the profit and loss account you will notice that the receipts for the past year are about LE. 67 less than in 1903, and on sandyring the tree; the time of the past year are about LE. 67 less than in 1903, and on sandyring the figures you will see that this is due to the fact that they profit on races and lutteries shows a decrease of a sum of LE. 228, which is only partially balanced by increases under other heads. This decreased profit might be taken to mean that the races have, not been such a financial success as last yoay, but; in spite of somewhat smaller receipts from lotteries, the figures are really better, the difference being accounted, for the fact that more mousy has been given away by the club in stakes, while the entrance-text, hough showing are relative increases, do not make up the tellular cocasioned by the entrance-text, hough showing are relative increases, do not make up the tellular cocasioned by the entrance-text, hough showing are relative increases, do not make up the tellular to exceed the late, the tellular to the ware in 1904 were LE 3,5404 and currance fees of LE. 3,964 i, or a shortage made of the twores in 1904 balance of stakes over entrees amounting to LE. 328, partly there has be other river in the world is so badly treated. The owners of 22,000 beats would surply submit to a small taxation of £l per bast per sname to secure better information than they have now, and some attempt at buoying marking, and beaconing chambels.

The Americans have fully recognised the necessity of dealing with obstructions and floods. The Mississippi is virtually a canal from St. Louis to New Orleans. The banks are pitched at a very low angle by what are locally called "levees." They not only meet this case of floods, but they maintain the river in one channel, with having the depths and with regulated currents. The outlets of the river the sea have been opened by drading.

The works which appear to me to be required to improve the awaygating of the Nile are per 1. The removal of shouls (saturaged banks) and the campaigned fable of the river by dredging, has led to a marked increase in the flood incharging of the belof the river by dredging, has led to a marked increase in the flood incharging of the belof the river by dredging, has led to a marked increase in the flood incharging of the belof the river by dredging, has led to a marked increase in the flood incharging of the belof the river by dredging, has led to a marked increase in the flood incharging of the belof the river of the course of the search of the sit and by the deredging of the search of the sit and by the deredging of the search of the sit and by the deredging of the course of the sit and by the deredging of the river on relation bears and places.

Sir William Precee's conclusion is a followed to the search of the sit and by the deredging of the river on relationed banks and places.

Sir William Precee's conclusion is a followed the search of the sit. This thousand toos of valuable mud are lost in the search of the sit and by the deredging of the river on relation bears and places.

Sir William Precee's conclusion is a followed to the land. Currents will be undered the search of the sit. The same of the search of the sit and by the deredging of owner and roce ocrose has made it aboutedly necessary to incur various large items of expenditure during the past year. Added to this extra expenditure of LE 364 the state of 2100 as benorarism to the handicapper, and also an increase in the office allowance of nearly LE 100, rendered necessary by the increase in the sorts. I think that the explanations I have given to you will be sufficient to show you that the verrepoteable print of LE 1074 which we can have been supported by the properties of the properti be needed when we have to face the inevitable removal of the club to other premises. With regard to the more, I cannot tall you at all when we may be called on to make this. As mentioned to you at the annual general meeting last year, H. H. Prince Molamed Drahim has promised us that we can remain where we are until he is able to hand us over a new course, which he promises to make after the Hairn, which he promises to make after the Hairn annual to the country of the control of the transposition of the provided from the Prince as to when any change may be necessary, but it is impossible to say how soon some such intimation may reach us, and in view of this and the necessary very large expenditure which a move would involve it is obvious that the club must be careful of its funds and not spend further than cannot avoided, money on improvements which might only turn out to have been thrown away. As an instance of this I may mention that the request more than once repeated by influential members of the club for the laying out of croquet lawns has not been compiled with though not at all from any wish on the part of the committee not to encourage this particular game. With regard to the sconing racing session. that memours of the caus for the laying out of croquet laws has not been complied with, though not at all from any wish on the part of the committee on to encourage this particular game. With regard to the committee as you will have seen from the programme already issued for the big races of 1900, are continuing their last year's policy of giving large stakes, without however making any appreciable increase over the amountagiven last year, and they look forward with confidence to a prospreous racing seecon. I should mention in this connection that the K.S.C. not being able to fall in with the alteration in the racing rules suggested by our club, your committee have been obliged to frame and issue racing rules of their own, which have since been alightly revised, and of which a new edition is on the point of being sized. At the same time the relations between the two clubs continue to be most cordial and amounts. In conclaison I would express up thanks for all the help and support given may be the committee during the year, and I am only, I am sure, voicing the sense of this meeting in thanking Mr. Frank Haseldes especially for the always efficient work he is doing for the cubs a clerk of the course. The committee that has been to the thorough way in which he has booked after the golf. The committee have also to regret the loss of one of their members in Capt. Means, who has for so many years fulfilled the clarge of the buffet, and who has now left Alexandre. The following were elected members of the clarge of the buffet, and who has now left and the committee of the country of the country of the country of the buffet, and who has now left and the country of the buffet, and who has now left and the country of the coun charge of the buffet, and who has now not Alexandria. The following were elected members of the committee: H. H. Prince Obnar Paala Tourson, H. H. Prince Obnar Paala Tourson, H. H. Prince Mohamed Ibrahim, H. E. Hassan Paala Mohsen, Mr. H. E. Barker, Major Hopkinson, Mr. Karaan, Major Pringle, Lt.-Col. Lucas, Major Lodilow, Baron A. de Menaace, Mr. J. P. Rodocanakh, Mr. J. A. Soott, Mr. M. Sinadino, with Mr. T. Lucas, representing 2nd R. Berke Regiment, Mr. E. Gles, representing the Eastern Tolograph Co., and Mr. A. S. Protton, hon. sec. and theorem. The Rev. Mr. Norman-Lee the months of forward a proposition pressing on the sought forward a proposition pressing on the notice of the committee the necessity for making grains croquet lawns at the club. The meeting quite convenience of the suggestion, and after some the committee the necessity for making croquet lawns at the club. The meetin appreciated the suggestion, and after discussion referred the matter to the mittee to take it into consideration.

MISSIONS TO MOHAMEDANS.

EDITOR OF THE EGYPTIAN GAZETTE. Sir,—It is undoubtedly true that missions Mohamedens are unjustifiable, if we accept to premises laid down in a leading article in t "Egyptian Gozette" on February 7th, viz.

premises laid down in a leading article in the "Egyptian Gazatte" on Pebruary Th, vit.—that all religions are equally good and true, that all religions are equally good and true, that in a true religion neither creed nor dogma has any place, and that all modern views and callightened clergy are arriving together at these comforting conclusions.

If these are the marks of enlightenment, I must confess to being one of the most unenlightened clergymen that exist, for I can neither admits a single one of your premises, nor and comfort in any of the unsatisfying doctrines thathevereeoutly adorned your columns. Nor can I think that the writer of the article had atolied the whole subject, or listened to the other side, before he declared that "the discoveries made by modern research go topport that the conclusions of modern thought are more and more justified, and tend to cut its ground from under the feet of those who is we heat tope neiforcing universal acceptation of the grounds research go the first to protest against so erroneous an intercementation of their transport in the contractions. It was will allow the first to protest against so erroseous an in-terpretation of their views. Il you will allow me some space in the "Gazette" for the pur pose, I will supply you with sufficient material success of missions to Mohamedans in past times. "But it sassier to make an assertion than to bring proofs, and I observe that you offer some. I am thankful to be able to give the most emphatic denial to your statement. You would be the first to rebotks any missionary for his folly, if, in a country like this, he were to cry about from the house-tops a prodismation of all such results. Because you have not heard of them you assume that they do not exist, but I for one should be greatly pleased to communicate some such, of which I happen to know, to anyone sufficiently interested in the subject to write and ask me for them.

No one would allege that the visible, statistical results, in this land at any rake, are asy yet what could be called "great," but without question they are great enough to warrant the continuation of the methods that have produced them. The greatest victories are often won only after long fishting, and I commend to your thought what Milner says in "Ragkand in Egrey," to the effect that some construries may elapse before the full results of British influence in this land will be attained. Missionaries also are content to wait, when need be, for the fruits of their labours. If, when you say that it would be a great mistake that "British influence should be exerted in favour of Christian missions to Moelens," you mean "official influence," I heartily agree. There is nothing to be desired less than that the Government aboult exercise any semblance of force in such a direction. The force of the sword was employed by the Mohamedans in this country for many centuries, as their religion basic them, with deplorable results. The Christian Church asks only for freedom and absolute equality, that it may prove what can be accomplished by those whose most powerful weepon is Love.—I am, etc., —I am, etc.,—I am, etc.,—I sharia El-Manakh, Cain, Petraury 10.
